

Phone Call Drill

The Phone Call Drill is presented with three individual stages, each of which requires 10 rounds. The shooter will shoot the numbers to match their chosen 10-digit phone number (personal, business, etc). The drill starts with the area code and then follows with the remaining seven digits of the phone number chosen.

Stage 1: Target is set at 5 yards. Shooter has no time limit. Any misses are an immediate disqualification of the drill. The drill must be completed with 100% accuracy.

Stage 2: Target is set at 3 yards. Shooter will begin the drill from the low-ready position. A range timer is needed. Shooter must complete the drill in 15 seconds from the start signal. A miss will add one second to the final time. More than two misses are a disqualification.

Stage 3: Target is set at 3 yards. Shooter must draw from concealment or LEO duty holster. Another person will fill the shooter's first magazine with no more than 7 rounds. On the start signal from the range timer, the shooter will draw and fire until they run empty. The shooter will conduct an emergency reload and then complete the drill. Shooter must complete the drill in under 20 seconds. A miss will add one second to the final time. More than two misses are a disqualification.
